Attaching the Tray

Choose the appropriate hardware based on the mounting style of your housing. Both 12-24 and 1/4-20 hardware are included with the tray.

Most Ikelite housings are marked with the thread size on the inside bottom of the housing. If your Ikelite housing is not marked, it is most likely 12-24 thread. Use the provided shoulder washers between the screws and the tray.

Most non-Ikelite housings have a single 1/4-20 thread. Attach the adhesive-backed rubber pad to the top of the tray before attaching a housing with central tripod-style mount. The rubber pad prevents rotation of the housing once it is tightened on the tray. Use the provided flat washer in between the screw and the tray.

Attaching an Accessory

Slide the AF35 Rubber Grip or Flex Mount with T Slot onto the tray. Insert and tighten the thumbscrew to lock it to the tray.

The AF35 system is designed to be easily removed for travel. There may be a small amount of movement when attached to an aluminum tray. This is normal and will not adversely affect operation.

Additional Features

- The bottom of the tray has two 1/4-20 threaded holes on either side of the center hole. Either of these holes may be used to attach a tripod or accessory.
- The end(s) of the tray also accept the optional Quick Release Handle for the attachment of an additional grip and mounting point for external lighting.
